

ABOUT THE SPEAKERS

Ken and Mari have been married for over 35 years. Together they team teach Couples and Family and Parenting Conferences both at Mount Hermon and throughout the Western States.

Ken Harrower has been directing family and couples ministry at Mount Hermon for 30 years, teaching couples, and leading family and parenting conferences. As a graduate of Fuller Theological Seminary, Ken formerly served on the pastoral staff of Garden Grove Community Church. Currently he is the Director of Program and Family Ministries for Mount Hermon's Conference Center programs. An ordained minister, Ken brings skills in teaching and counseling.

Mari Harrower is a graduate of Biola University and the University of Santa Clara with a M.A. in Marriage and Family Therapy. She is a licensed Marriage and Family Therapist with a private practice in Scotts Valley, and supervises trainees and registered interns at Mount Hermon Christian Conference Center.

As a team, they model a couple involved in ministry and in enhancing growing relationships. They are the parents of two married children, and are enjoying their three young grandchildren.

BUILDING a LASTING MARRIAGE

A MARRIAGE CONFERENCE FOR YOUR ENRICHMENT

FEBRUARY 4 & 5, 2005
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
DAVIS, CA

SESSIONS

Laying a Solid Foundation

We all have accumulated stuff in our lives that makes the "ground" in our marriage a bit rocky and hard to build on. In this session, we'll look at how to clean away the stuff in our lives (old habits, harmful relational patterns, and unhealthy family routines) that are making our marriages difficult to build on. Learn how to overcome obstacles in your marriage and lay a solid and strong foundation for years to come.

Tips and Traps of Marriage Building

Everyone tends to have one dominant style when it comes to resolving conflict in their lives and often times those styles are not healthy. In this session we will explore new biblical ways to resolve the conflicts that arise between you and your spouse. This session promises to be lively and practical.

The Complete Do it Yourself Guide to Communication

Few things are more important in a marriage relationship than communication. In this session we will explore what healthy avenues of communication look like by learning to balance truth with love and honesty with grace. Our aim will be to develop a communication style in our homes that is more grace filled.

Our marriage conference this year will help you and your spouse to build a strong and lasting marriage.

Whether you have been married for decades, married for only a few years, or are newly engaged, this conference will give you practical tools to build a lasting marriage. Our time together will encourage you as we explore some of the following foundational areas of married life:
